LiquidAgents Healthcare Named “Best Place to Work” by Dallas Business Journal

Plano, Texas – September 22, 2011 – LiquidAgents Healthcare, an award-winning industry leader in healthcare staffing, has once again been named by the Dallas Business Journal as a “Best Place to Work” honoree. The 2011 Best Places to Work honor is the eighth time LiquidAgents has been recognized in the last decade. It is also the eighth time the company has placed in the top ten list of best companies in Dallas. LiquidAgents Healthcare took first place in 2009.

The results are based on employee surveys covering topics such as work environment, innovations, people practices, personal growth and employee recognition.

“We rely on our people. LiquidAgents attracts top-tier professionals in the healthcare and staffing industries. Our clients expect quality recruits and service that goes above and beyond industry standards,” said Sheldon Arora, CEO. “We will continue to set the standard for job satisfaction in our category.”

At any given moment, LiquidAgents Healthcare employs between two and three hundred full-time travel nurse and allied professionals. In addition, their Plano-based office employs fifty recruiters and support staff. In contrast to the sluggish employment numbers of the economy overall, hiring is expected to increase substantially in the coming year.
